

God is full of Grace!

Monthly Feature: Ghana Trip + Busy September

Once again, the touch-down in Kotoka International Airport in Accra, Ghana filled me with excitement, hopeful expectation, and the certainty that God was indeed at work both in my heart and in the hearts of the people I had been away from for so long in Ho and the surrounding area. It had been two years and four months since I had been repatriated from Ghana in the middle of all the COVID drama back in April of 2020. So much had happened in my life and in the lives of the Ghanaians both at Grace Baptist Church and at the BATA Campus. Rekindling relationships with pastors, students, and workers was a blessing God was pleased to grant in the short time I spent in Ho. The entire two weeks was incredibly full. There were meetings of correction, guidance, and instruction expressing future hopes and looking at past labors. I was blessed to share God's Word in Bible studies, preaching at church, and teaching in VBS. There was a lot of food eaten, songs sung, stories shared, and well-earned sleeping. The trip was such a blessing to me. Many expressed thankfulness to God for the ministry He enabled me to be a part of. I can say without reservation, I long for my full-time return to the ministry in Ho. Please thank the Lord for this trip and the blessings that it held.

September hit fast and, before I knew it, it was halfway over! So far, it has involved a lot of driving and wedding planning. Praise the Lord as I've been able to secure a rental home in Maxwell, NE for the first six months (maybe more) following our wedding. The plan is to be there through the holidays and into spring as Rebecca joins ABWE and Ghana paperwork is done. We also hope to re-visit all of my supporting churches as a couple during that time. To close out September, I'll be traveling to Pennsylvania for an ABWE aviation recruiting weekend and turning around to spend September's last weekend in Colorado at a missions conference.

Thank you for your continued prayers. I'll leave you with Psalm 30:4 "Sing praise to the LORD, O you His saints, and give thanks to His holy name."
